PARAISO SS23

Traveling through the greatest places on the planet, I found a very different image from what travel agencies or Instagram showed me in their images. Beautiful places, but overflowing with people and dirt. Beaches full of plastic and garbage.

Everything has become a game of angle and perspective to make it appear that it is worth traveling to those places full of palm trees but also full of garbage. Where their local communities live with the dirt generated by tourists.

Are we destroying the last paradises on the planet? If even the most precious places we consider perfect for vacation are full of garbage, what can be expected from us?

We have created a unique, calm and more sustainable collection to make the uniqueness relevant again. Promoting a more conscious way of consuming fashion. Pieces to be remembered like the last summer sunset.

For next Spring Summer we created our own Paradise. Do you join us?
